Voting rights and quorum

The Committee of Technical Experts is composed of all Member States of OTIF. However, when deliberating or taking decisions within the meaning of Article 20 § 1 of COTIF, only those Member States of OTIF which have not made a declaration concerning Appendices F (APTU) and G (ATMF) in accordance with the first sentence of Article 42 § 1 of COTIF will have the right to vote. These Member States are referred to as the Contracting States. The Member States that are not Contracting States will be able to participate in the discussions on these agenda items in an advisory capacity.

A list of Member States and their application of Appendices F (APTU) and G (ATMF) is attached as Annex E.

There is a quorum in the Committee of Technical Experts when one-half of the Contracting States are represented. As no formal decisions can be taken if there is no quorum, it is very important that the Contracting States are represented at the session. According to Article 16 § 3 of COTIF, Contracting States may delegate powers (including the right to vote) to another State. A model proxy is attached as Annex F.

Regional economic integration organisation – European Union

In accordance with Article 38 § 2 and 3 of COTIF the regional organisation may exercise the rights enjoyed by its members by virtue of the Convention to the extent that they cover matters for which it is competent. For the purpose of the exercise of the right to vote, the regional organisation shall enjoy the number of votes equal to those of its members which are also Member States of OTIF. In accordance with Article 6(4) of the Accession Agreement, the European Union will inform the Secretary General of those agenda items in respect of which it will exercise the voting rights. The Secretary General will share this information with the members of the Committee and observers as soon as he receives it.

Observers

Associate Members of the Organisation may participate in the work of the CTE as observers in accordance with Article 39 § 2 of COTIF.

States which are not members of the Organisation and relevant international organisations and associations may be invited as observers, subject to the conditions of Article 16 § 5 of the Convention. The Secretary General intends to invite the States, organisations and associations as set out in Annex C to this session of the Committee. Member States are asked to send any objections they may have concerning these invitations to the Secretariat by no later than 7 April 2020.

Observers are entitled to take part in the discussions, but may not vote.
Registration

In order to organise the session efficiently, Member States, associate Members, regional organisations that have acceded to COTIF and observers invited to the session are asked to let the Secretary General know the names and functions of their representatives, using the digital registration form on OTIF’s website (www.otif.org) under:
